

Amiga Specialty Announces 5-Year Capacity Support via the Accelerant Risk Exchange

LONDON, UK — Amiga Specialty, the specialty lines Managing General Agent (MGA), today announced it has secured multi-year, multi-product capacity via the Accelerant Risk Exchange to support its portfolio across Commercial D&O, Professional Indemnity, Financial Institutions, and Transactional Risks.

The announcement comes just six months after the firm's debut, representing a significant step in its global growth trajectory as its first capacity milestone.

"This partnership represents an exciting next chapter for Amiga," said Adam Kembrooke, Founder and Managing Director of Amiga Specialty. "In a short time, we've built an exceptional team and product suite. We're excited to work with Accelerant to give us the long-term foundation and aligned philosophy to trade confidently at scale across key global markets."

Since launching in June 2025 with backing from B.P. Marsh & Partners, Amiga has appointed a number of senior market leaders, including Martin Mills as Non-Executive Chairman; James Rasmussen as Managing Director, Management Liability UK & Europe; Jamie Ricketts as Managing Director, DOFI; Richard Mills as Managing Director, Transactional Risks; and Ralph Sherbahn, Managing Director, Financial Lines, Asia Pacific.

Accelerant is a leading technology company operating a data-driven risk exchange platform for the specialty insurance market. It provides MGAs with long-term, data-driven capacity through the platform, which connects portfolios of specialty risk with capital providers. Accelerant's Risk Exchange operates across 22 countries, providing access to over a dozen AM Best A-rated issuing carriers and supporting more than 500 specialty products.
